ISAD 2018 – My Stammer

The Idea

To bring people together this year for International Stammering Awareness Day (ISAD), the concept of 'My Stammer' arose in partnership with the London (SEALS) group - South East & London Stammering Clinical Excellence Network (CEN) group to encourage children and young people to help create awareness of stammering through an art project. My Stammer encourages children and young people to draw, paint, photograph, make a film or model, or anything else of their choice that creatively helps to raise awareness and understanding of stammering.

My Stammer Exhibition

On ISAD 2018 (22nd October) there will be an exhibition and launch at the London Metropolitan Archives to display some of the work of the participating children and young people. However, we are encouraging our partners and Speech and Language Therapists across the UK to put on exhibition displays of their own, however small or large to help promote stammering and we would love to hear from you.

If you are a child or young person aged between 5 and 21 and would like to participate then please fill in the form on the next page and send it back to us at:

Action for Stammering Children
Michael Palin Centre
13-15 Pine Street
London, EC1R 0JG

(Please note, we will not be able to send back any art work submitted)

Action for Stammering Children

Action for Stammering Children (ASC) is a UK charity which aims for a society where children and young people who stammer have the same opportunities and quality of life as their peers. Our goal is to ensure that every child and young person across the UK who stammers has access to effective services and support to help them meet the challenges they face.

Based in The Michael Palin Centre for Stammering Children (MPC), the charity is a strong supporter, commissioning specialist assessments and therapies for children and young people that stammer, appropriate research, and the training of speech and language therapists across the country.

In 2016/17 the Charity helped more than 4,000 children and young people who stammer through a range of initiatives and projects including both at the MPC, and with other partners across the UK, including:

- Our Helpline
- Supporting Specialist Assessment Services
- Training Speech and Language Therapists in stammering
- ASC Youth Panel, involving 15 young people from across the UK
- Research
- Talking Out residential in North Yorkshire and Staffordshire
